Finding Help for Hearing LOSS...

Hearing loss can occur at any age and for many reasons. In adults, one of the most common periods for hearing loss to begin is between the ages of 40 and 55. Surprisingly, people are often not aware that a hearing loss has developed. Some forms of hearing loss are very mild and may only involve difficulty in hearing certain sounds or hearing in specific situations. Additionally, some types of hearing loss may occur so gradually that they progress without one even noticing. Eventually, the hearing loss can lead to feelings of isolation, frustration, and even depression.

Our office is staffed by a licensed dispensing audiologist with thirty years of experience in the fitting of hearing aids.

Because of our advanced training in the study of hearing and hearing loss, we are uniquely prepared to assist in the comprehensive assessment and rehabilitation of your hearing needs. While audiologists do not treat medical diseases of the ear, we can recognize the diseases. It is quite an advantage that we are housed within an ENT practice, allowing us to make referrals to one of our physicians without leaving the premises.

If you suspect that you or someone you know has a hearing loss, contact us for a professional hearing evaluation.
